Students wishing to study a subject independently for credit must find an instructor to supervise the project. The instructor and the student then agree on the number of credits the student may earn. The student must complete an Independent Study Form, have it signed, and deliver it to the Registrar.

Without special permission, students may not register for or earn toward the degree more than six credits each semester in any one or combination of independent study, special topics, and variable topics courses. To increase this limit, students must consult with their advisor and get the permission of their academic dean.

Mandatory Training - All undergraduates who will be involved in research, internships, independent study and thesis/ should complete the online COVID-19 safety training. There are two options for completing the online training and either training is acceptable: "Returning to Research Training Course" OR "Returning to Campus Training Course." Students should provide email confirmation that they have completed the training to their research mentor/supervisor/faculty advisor. Questions can be directed to your instructor.
