

2011 USDA Food and Agricultural Sciences Excellence in College and University Awards Program Recipient

Dr. Robert Milvae was honored as one of only two 2011 national teaching award winners selected for the USDA Food and Agricultural Sciences Excellence in College and University Awards Program. Bob received his award at a formal ceremony on November 13, 2011 in San Francisco at the annual meeting of the Association for Public Land Grant Universities and Colleges. Dr. Milvae's selection through the very competitive process associated with this award brings national recognition of what his colleagues in Storrs have long known about his creative approaches toward and commitment to the craft of teaching.

As of November 2011, 60 Colleges/Schools have had individuals recognized by this program which began in the early 1990s. UConn's College of Agriculture and Natural Resources has had a total of 8 faculty members recognized by this program and this places us in the top 7 of all institutions nationally (for the number of individuals honored)! On a per FTE basis and because of our size, we rank first in the number of individuals recognized.
